Great little hidden bar/restaurant. Great local beer!

I have been here about a handful of times with the hubs. We are both beer snobs/connoisseurs and enjoy our local brews. It is right next to the house and we can always seem to stop in with no problems. Austin is the only bartender I have experienced. He is very tentative and nice.

Have only had a few food items but all have been good. Prices are good. Atmosphere is good as long as they can keep the jukebox going. All around a pretty groovy little joint!
